

Upgrades To Our Quiet-One Kickspace Heaters

New Design - Same Performance

Smith's Environmental is happy to announce the following enhancements to their top selling lineup of Quiet-One Kickspace Heaters. Noted for their ease of installation and quiet operation, all four Quiet-One models will now be shipped with a brushed stainless steel grille as standard. An additional five overlay grille finishes will be available as optional accessories: white, matte black, matte brown, gold and chrome.

Smith's Environmental is confident that with the addition of the brushed stainless steel grille as the standard finish, the Quiet-One Kickspace Heaters will be an ideal complement to today's modern kitchen designs, and provide the best solution for those hard to heat spaces.

Attractive New Packaging

Smith's Environmental Quiet-One Kickspace Heaters are now shipped in attractive packaging to further enhance the appeal of the most popular selling kickspace heater. The attractive design is intended to draw attention to the new stainless steel grille as it seamlessly blends into a modern kitchen environment after installation. When prominently displayed, this new updated packaging will increase sales for both you the wholesaler and your contractor customers.

This will be a running change to inventory as model numbers become available.
We are excited to offer this new update to enhance the kitchen décor.
